

COMBINED ARMS CENTER

INTELLECTUAL CENTER OF THE ARMY

Volume 1 No. 09

October-November 2010

TRAINING

EDUCATION

EXPERIENCE

Mission Command Center of Excellence Update

Lt. Gen. Robert Caslen, commanding general of the U.S. Army Combined Arms Center, and Col. (P) Charlie Flynn, director of the Mission Command Center of Excellence, take questions from the audience following their presentation on Mission Command during the Association of the United States Army National Meeting in Washington, D.C. Photo by Carroll Kim. CLICK FOR MORE

Notable News & Events

OCT 7— New app brings ATN to mobile device Just 15 months after its 2009 introduction, the Army Training Network at <https://atn.army.mil> is continuing to build momentum as a leading online source for Army training management information, videos, manuals and other tools. CLICK FOR MORE

OCT 13—Conference Offers Lessons in Leadership Seeking solutions to the challenges of developing ethical leadership in a time of change was a tall order for the planners of the Virginia Military Institute's inaugural leadership conference, held Oct. 4-6 in VMI's Center for Leadership and Ethics, but they drew upon a wealth of knowledgeable leaders to share their experiences in facing these tough issues. CLICK FOR MORE

OCT 14—Counter-IED training focuses on attacking network When it comes to saving lives in Afghanistan, Iraq or elsewhere, determining which training approach emphasizes preventing the network from placing the improvised explosive device vs. reacting to the detonation of an IED is the key to addressing the "left of the boom" pre-deployment training. CLICK FOR MORE

OCT 20— Many deployments turn students into experts The movie, set in the 1990s, dramatized the gaffes made in fielding the Bradley fighting vehicle. But it's not just a history lesson. "It's sort of scary because the same stuff happened with the [mine-resistant, ambush-protected vehicle]," said Maj. Wilson Hopkins, a Marine officer at the Army Command and General Staff School here. CLICK FOR MORE

OCT 21— President OKs 5-star commemorative coins After nearly two years of research, letter writing campaigns, visits to Congress and phone calls, the Command and General Staff College Foundation has succeeded in shepherding the "5-Star General Commemorative Coin Act" through the House and the Senate with the requisite number of cosponsors. President Barack Obama signed the bill into law on October 8, 2010. "This is a very significant event in the life of the foundation," said Bob Ulin, CGSC Foundation chief executive officer. CLICK FOR MORE

NOV 10— World War II vet presented medals First Lt. Dale Lingelbach's heroic World War II service received much-deserved recognition recently, thanks to his steadfast widow. Nov. 5, Col. Tim Reese, chief of staff for the Command and General Staff College at Fort Leavenworth, presented the Bronze Star Medal for meritorious service and the World War II Victory Medal to Dale Lingelbach's widow, Scottie Lingelbach, 88. CLICK FOR MORE

Wanat Study

The Battle of Wanat is a study written by the Combat Studies Institute. The study focuses on the July 13, 2008, battle in Afghanistan's Waigal Valley during which nine American Soldiers died and 27 were wounded. CLICK FOR MORE

Strong Students, Strong Futures, Strong Nation

Dean of Academics Dr. Chris King talks about the mission of the Command and General Staff College during his segment, "Educating Leaders for a Life of Service to the Nation," at the Strong Students, Strong Futures, Strong Nation education conference Oct. 26 in Marshall Lecture Hall. Photo by Prudence Siebert CLICK FOR MORE

Visit the Combined Arms Center webpage at <http://usacac.army.mil/cac2/>
Visit the Combined Arms Center Blog at <http://usacac.army.mil/blog/>
FACEBOOK: <http://www.facebook.com/USACAC>
TWITTER: www.twitter.com/USACAC
YOU TUBE: <http://www.youtube.com/user/CACFrontier6>

